TEACHING AND LEARNING DURING THE COMMON TESTS WRITING PERIOD

1. The protection of teaching and learning time is paramount to the achievement of learning outcomes.

2. It has come to the attention of the Department that there are schools which are missing teaching and learning time during the writing of common tests.

3. Common tests are not meant to take away teaching and learning time.

4. It is expected that normal teaching and learning continues immediately after the common test session has been completed each day. Grades not writing common tests must continue with normal teaching and learning during the writing of common tests session.

5. Kindly bring the contents of this circular to all parties affected.

Nkosinathi SP Sishi, PhD
Head of Department: Education
Date: 12 June 2013