NATIONAL RECONCILIATION DAY

- South Africa will mark National Reconciliation Day on 16 December 2014 under the theme: “Social Cohesion, Reconciliation and National Unity in the 20 years of Democracy.”

- Together we must build a nation that encourages dialogue, fosters social cohesion and celebrates its heritage.

- South Africans from all walks of life have the responsibility to respect and acknowledge the past, celebrate the present and build the future together.

- Government’s commitment to peace and reconciliation has never faltered.

- Our social cohesion is informed by, and rooted within our Constitution. It shows how South Africans can unite and work towards a common goal.
