Christmas & New Year Well Wishes from the KwaZulu-Natal MEC for Education, Ms Neliswa Peggy Nkonyeni

As the year nears its end, people are starting to find ways that leads them to having quality time with their families.

If you look back to the year, lots had happened. There’re lots of individuals whom we knew, whom we entered 2013 with but who are now no more. So what does that say to me and you? Its simply says, we are still expected to add more value in the life of our nation. Even if you’ve perceive the year 2013 as an awful year for you and your family, but you must find solace in that we are always cajoled to count our blessings. If we count our blessings, we will be amazed just how much God has blessed us

Thank you for your tireless work, this department wouldn’t achieve any of its goals if it wasn’t for your dedication dear colleagues. Those long hours and sleepless nights were results of your ambitions to fulfill the mandate of this Department. We had a lot in store that was waiting to be unpacked, and you did just exactly what was expected from you.

Colleagues, this is a season of sharing, caring and reconciliation. Let us cherish each and every moment we’ve been given by God let us be loyal to one another. This is an exciting season to many, and sometimes others turn to forget who they are. My advice to you colleagues is, please enjoy it safely, if you happen to drink please drink responsible, spend your money wisely, and if ever you find yourself indulging into any pleasure please remember precautions. Do not forget that speed kills, drive safely and obey the rules of the road. We’re still looking forward to seeing you in the New Year, so please take good care of yourselves. Have a rest, you deserve it. May you and your families have a Merry Christmas and a Prosperous new year!!!!!!!!!!
